Accessing Paris City Centre

Taxis from the Roissy (CDG) airport to the city centre are pricy and not always convenient due to traffic (at least 55 to 60 euros). It is therefore strongly recommended to take the train (RER):

1. The train station in the Airport is located on Terminal 2. From Terminal 1 or 3, take the free airport metro CDGVAL to reach Terminal 2.
2. In the train station, follow the signs to RER B. You can take any train direction 'Robinson' or 'Saint-Rémy-Les-Chevreuses' or 'Massy Palaiseau'.
3. For the city centre, it is recommended that you stop at 'Chatelet' or 'Saint-Michel Notre Dame'. The trip takes around 1 hour and tickets cost about 9,50€. You need to buy the ticket before stepping into the train and you must keep the ticket to take metro connections or to leave the station. See RER

From Orly airport:

1. Take the airport train ORLYVAL to reach Antony's RER station. . You need to buy the ticket before stepping into the train and you must keep the ticket to take metro connections or to leave the station.
2. In the train station, follow the signs to RER B. You can take any train direction 'Mitry-Claye' or 'Aéroport Ch. Gaulle'.
3. For the city centre, it is recommended that you stop at 'Chatelet' or 'Saint-Michel Notre Dame'. The trip takes around 40 mins and tickets cost about 10€.

When returning back you must be a little bit careful to take the RER branch that take you to the airport (check the screens at the stations)

Accessing to UPMC and D'Alembert institute

The exact place of the workshop will be notified later.

Accessing to UPMC and D'Alembert institute

As an alternative, you can take metro 10 then stop at 'Austerlitz' and take a nice walk through the 'Jardin des Plantes'.

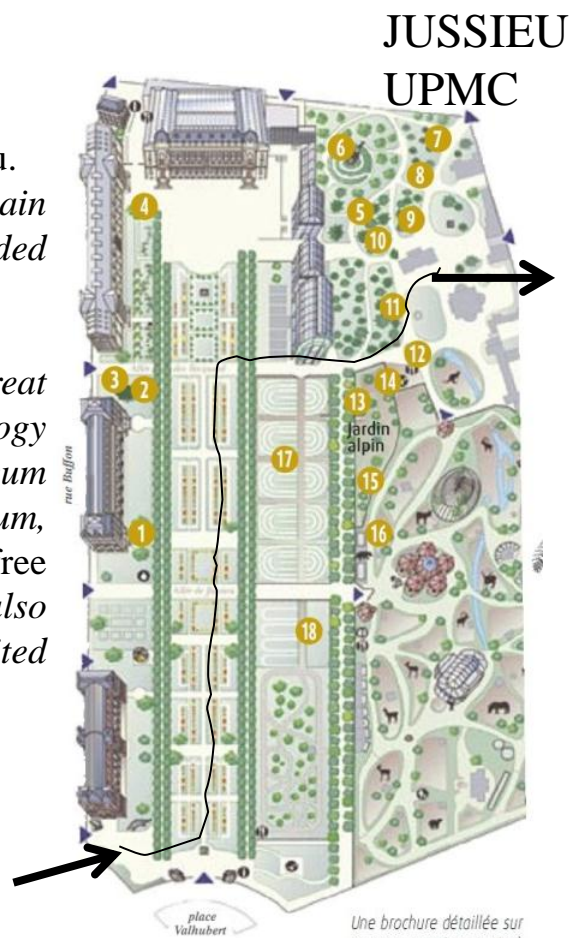

Opens at 8:00 and closes at 19:30.

Free entrance to the gardens.

This is a 15 minutes walk to Jussieu.

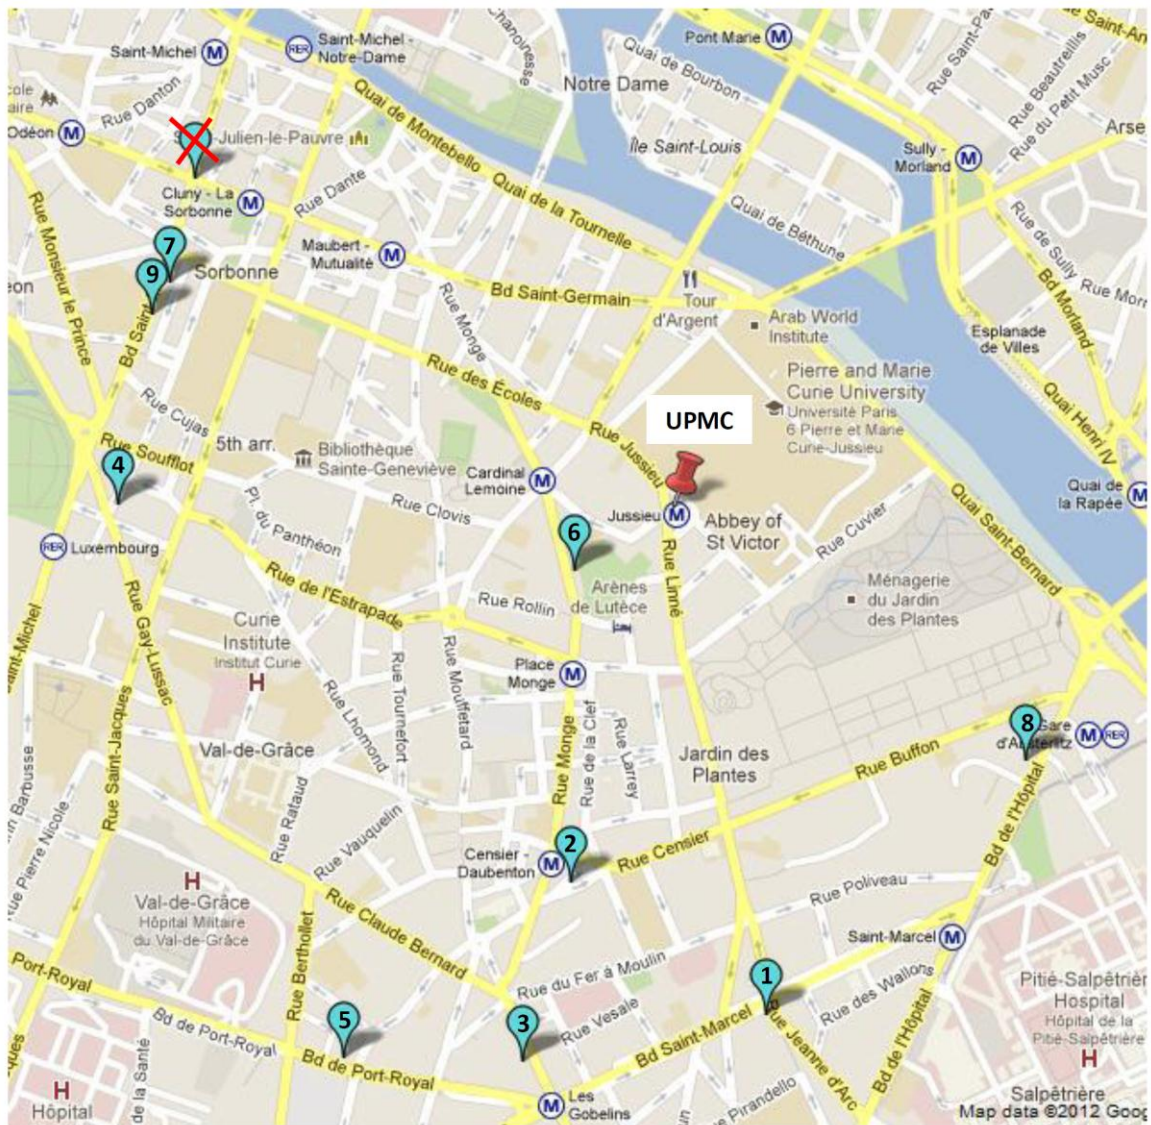

The Jardin des Plantes is the main botanical garden in France, founded in 1626.

It includes four galleries: the Great Gallery of Evolution, the Mineralogy Museum, the Palaeontology Museum and the Entomology Museum, recommended if you have some free time in Paris. In addition there is also a small zoo (kangaroos are exhibited for free)
